

ECO EDGE SPOTLIGHT

Introducing Eco Edge Spotlight

At Rachel Clarke Events we are passionate about preserving the ecosystem that surrounds Las Vegas. We believe that the whole event doesn't have to be green to provide value; just one green edge makes a valuable impact.

We will turn our bright, shining spotlight on someone or something that is fabulously green either within our community in Las Vegas or within the meeting and events industry.

The Eco Edge Spotlight explores ways to minimize the impact of your silver stiletto. This month we explore the sexy side of green.

The Sexy Side of Green

Has the perception of green changed? Have you too noticed that being green has moved away from hippy chic to cool and sexy? We fell in love with Heather Abel aka GoingGreen Girl, when we met her at Green Drinks at

The Arts Factory, Downtown Las Vegas in late 2009. This Amazonian woman flies over Vegas in her green cape as an eco warrior, a spin instructor, a green conference planner, and a leader of G-Force. G-Force is a green volunteer group that undertakes projects within the community such as neighborhood clean-ups and educating attendees at events such as the upcoming Viva Bike Vegas Oct 9 and Silverman Health and Wellness Expo, Nov 5-7.
